Parent Governor

My name is Stuart McNaughton. I am a father of two young boys - Lucas, currently in Year 3, and Alec who started Reception in September 2020. I have been married to Beatriz, a modern languages teacher, for 10 years. I was born and raised in Scotland and first came to Newcastle to study for my Masters degree in 1999. I'm now proud to call the city, and Great Park in particular, my home having lived here for the past 12 years. In my spare time I enjoy playing squash and get out on my bike with the kids as often as possible. Having worked in transport, in both the private and public sectors, for 20 years, I now lead on strategic transport policy for Northumberland County Council which involves managing the development of major transport infrastructure projects. We also do a significant amount of work with local schools in Northumberland to provide opportunities for children to safely walk and cycle to school. Brunton First School is at the centre of our community and I'm passionate about ensuring that it continues to develop our children in a safe, healthy and fun environment while constantly looking for ways to improve. It's a fantastic school for the children to learn and I'm honoured to have the chance to play a part in its future
